

TERESA GORE, DNP, APRN

Since 2002, I have teaching experience on the graduate and undergraduate levels. In 2007, I joined INACSL and have served as the At-Large Member Representative and Representative Chair. While on the Board of Directors, I have been on the Programs Committee & Membership Committee. As a member of the Programs Committee, I served on the Conference Committee. As the At-Large Member Representative, I initiated the International Member Luncheon and the Service Member Luncheon at the Annual Conference for these groups to collaborate and determine ways for INACSL to better meet the needs of our members. I have been actively involved in the development of Standards by INACSL over the past year and a half. In November 2010, I completed a Certificate in Simulation Education Program through Bryan LGH College of Health Sciences, a 9 hour graduate level program.

I have published research findings and teaching strategies in simulation in the INACSL journal, Clinical Simulation in Nursing. In addition to publications, I have presented both podium and poster presentations nationally and internationally.

I understand the requirements and time commitment necessary to fulfill the duties of INACSL Board of Directors and am eager to accomplish these tasks.
